Who says skateboarders have more fun?! MAUREEN MARCIELLO had a great time at the Runway's Rollerskate Contest (see page 11). She placed Third in Women's Freestyle and was Runner-Up in the Beauty Pageant. Photo by Spot.

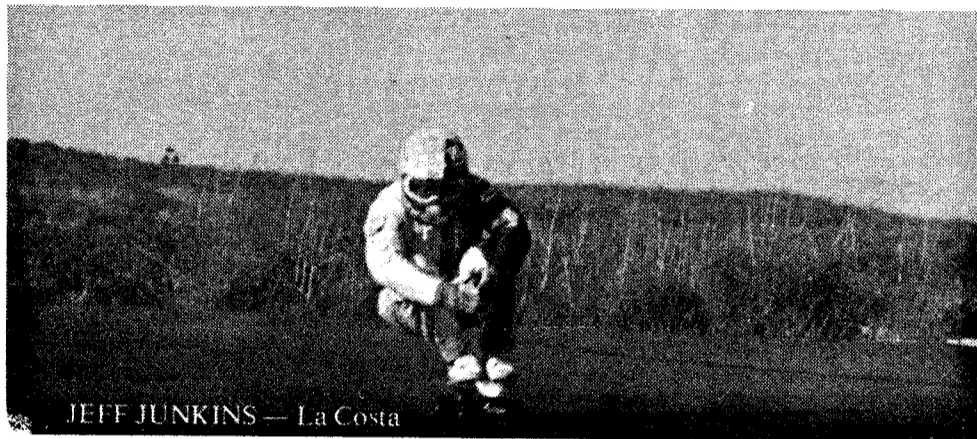

Notice:

DOES ANYBODY KNOW. . .if skateboarding is really illegal anywhere in the city of Portland, Oregon? Please write with the facts if you do.

What's the point?

Much attention has been put on the pros. That's fine and is important. Little attention has been placed on the other 99% that compose this sport and that's bad. It is that 99% who buy all the merchandise sold and who pay to skate in your park. Sales are down. Parks all over the country are hurting. What's the hold card to boost the statistics back up? The Amateur. More specifically, it is supplying the amateur with programs designed to develop and raise his interest to a level that will keep him involved in the sport. Organized competition is the "LIFE BLOOD" of any sport. It's time to organize and promote the amateur, long and loud!

CONTESTS

California Skateboard State Championships

On July 14, 15 and 16 the U.A.S.A. (United Amateur Skateboard Assoc.) held its First Annual Invitational California State Amateur Championships. This event was a culmination of a season long series of amateur contests held at skateparks all over the state of California. Winners had been accumulating points which were the basis for inviting the finalists to this State Championship. The Finals were held at Skatopia Skatepark, in Buena Park, Ca., and also at Movie World, a commercial recreation amusement park. Skatopia hosted the snake run event, giant slalom, bowl riding, and pipe riding. Movie World hosted a slalom race, freestyle, as well as a Miss U.A.S.A. Contest, entertainment, music, and demos. The finals were sponsored by Van's Shoes.

I.S.A.

August 5,6, 1978 was the date for the I.S.A. Northern California Pro Park Competition. Held at Winchester Skatepark in Campbell, California, the contest offered Bowl Riding, Air, Cross Country, and Doubles. In the Bowl Riding event each skater had three runs in rotation with the field of entries. Time for each run was not to exceed 40 seconds. The best two out of three runs was scored in the trials. The best three out of five runs in the semi-finals and finals were the ones that counted. Ties were decided by the third run in the trials, and by the fourth highest run in the semi-finals and finals. Judges scored from 1 to 100 and they discarded the high and low scores. The competition worked on a ladder/single elimination basis starting with the whole field. The field was cut in half at each round ending up with a head-to-head dual for first place.

For the Air event, the push off started at the beginning of the washboard run. Both feet had to stay on the board from the push off through the whole move. Two attempts were allowed. Highest air was the winner. Height was measured at the bottom of the board at its highest position.

For the Cross Country event, a map of the course was described at the rider's meeting before the event. Each member of the five man teams rode the full course with a baton (like the ones used in track meets) and had to pass the baton to the next team skater at the start/finish line.

In the Doubles event, there were two riders in the bowl at a time. The pair got one minute for their routine. Scores were from 1 to 100. Judges looked for good team work and the most innovative routine.

Entry fee was $100 for men, $50 for women plus the I.S.A. membership.

Canada

Monty Little, President of the Canadian Pro-Am Skateboard Association has recently completed his national amateur series. Contests were held in every Province in Canada. Winners of those contests were then invited to the season finals in British Columbia. Russ Howell co-announced the finals with Canadian Tom Jefferies. Winners were to be flown to the site of the finals courtesy of CP Air Lines. Unfortunately, an airlines strike prevented the winners from using their tickets for that event, but they can use them any time after the strike is over. Super Valu and Pepsi Cola joined in to make the series a great success.

Skaters in Canada had been competing in freestyle, slalom, 360's, barrel jumping, and high jump in 18 contests since June. The finals were held in Vancouver, British Columbia at the Fair. Spectators paid their admission to get into the Fair, and admission to the skateboard contest was free once inside the gates. A counter at the door revealed that approximately 9,000 people came inside to watch the amateur skateboarding national finals.

Winners of the finals got a tour of California Skateparks along with their other prizes. Monty will be working on the Spring '79 Season for Canadian competition as soon as he returns from the California tour.

LET'S HEAR FROM:

OHIO

Professional and Amateur skateboarding is making its niche in the State of Ohio. If you don't believe it just open your eyes and look around. We are one of the few states in the country to have a World Professional Skateboard Championship. The enthusiasm generated by the California FreeFormer World Downhill Skateboard Championship promoted by the Professional Skateboard Association at Derby Downs in Akron, Ohio is tremendous. National TV coverage by ABC Wide World of Sports and CBS Sports Spectacular bring even more attention to Ohio's role in skateboarding. How many states can boast of having so many fine skaters participate in a single contest? With this momentum created, amateur competitions are starting to develop. At the time of this writing the 2nd Annual All-American Skateboard Championships in Cleveland Heights, Ohio (Sept. 9) are being put together. This indoor competition (freestyle, long jump, high jump, 360's, and tight slalom) will expand this year to skaters in Michigan, Pennsylvania, Indiana, and Illinois.

Where do other skaters skate and practice? Indoor parks such as Soaring High in Toledo, Rainbow Skatepark in Tallmadge, and a new park to be opened in Willowick as well as outdoor parks in Elyria: High Roller and Skateboard Paradise. Many other parks throughout Ohio are either on the drawing boards or are being built.

This year will no doubt see the development of an Ohio Skatepark Association. The members of the Association will be able to share the problems that arise in running a skatepark and learn ways to deal with it. They will also help coordinate a series of amateur competitions which is the backbone for the growth of our sport.

In the Summer of 1978 a new company emerged — Ohio Skateboard Products, Inc. The company sells high quality professional skateboards for the serious skater at an affordable price. Ohio Skateboard Products also sponsor a team which has given many demonstrations and safety clinics. The team members are VAL SCERBIN, ANDREW AND MURRAY CARPENTER.

Reed Klein, a resident of Willoughby Hills, a suburb of Cleveland, was one of the five qualified World Skateboard judges that participated in the World Indoor Skateboard Championships in Long Beach, California. Reed has also helped in coordinating and promoting other major championships.

So, you can see Ohio is doing it's thing in promoting and supporting the sport of skateboarding. If you are interested in more information or would like to see other things published in this column about Ohio please write to: Ohio Skateboard Products, 27400 Chardon Rd., Suite #1220, Willoughby Hills, Ohio, 44092, Att. EUROPE

By Paul Engh

Europe is beginning to slowly rid itself of the evils of crummy equipment. Many have already gone through the phase of the crummy plastic board and have shelled out the BIG BUCKS for a quality stick — which is quite a painful experience over here. I talked to a 13 year old in London who had just shelled out the equivalent of $40 for wheels, $28 for a laminated board, and $30 for a pair of Trackers. But, with the combination of that stick, the skateparks (such as they are), the brief invasion of Bobby Piercy & Co., and "Skateboarder" Magazine (the Bible for innovation), the English are looking good.

The Germans would have to be in second place due to less skate terrain and scarcity of gear and exorbitant prices of quality skate equipment. The rest of Europe is skate stoked and has the energy.

What Europe needs is more parks — no matter how small, they need places to skate (something we, in the States, take pretty much for granted) and they need to get their hands on quality equipment without having to pay hefty prices for it. With these ingredients, the Europeans will have a good showing at the 1984 Olympics in L.A.

Hey, Southern Cal: I think we have done something truly noteworthy. We have managed to put a whole set of words into the vocabulary of a dozen different languages. No matter what accent they are said with they remain basically intact: "Alva, kick-flip, Tracker, Piercy, nose wheelie, skate park, Ty, YoYo, etc. . .

A.E.S.A. Proposes Scholastic Skateboard Competition

The American East Skateparks Association has suggested that school systems become involved in sponsoring skateboard safety and skill development by establishing clubs or sanctioned teams for competitive events. It is far cheaper to outfit a skateboarder with his appropriate gear, including board, than it is to equip a football or hockey player. The competitive gymnastic nature of a well executed skateboard freestyle competition combined with its ever growing popularity would make it a fund raiser for school systems.

In areas where skateparks are available, some hot wall riding events could be conducted. In the "flatlands" good freestyle events could be sponsored in gymnasium facilities as it has been shown that the current wheel technology has produced products that will not damage hard wood floors. Of course, plywood ramps and bowls could be constructed in such indoor facilities where it is permitted.

In order to initiate such a program, local schools could develop a skateboard club activity to demonstrate the proper and safe pursuit of the sport. The next step would be to have competitions within the school system among each school, or to sell the school board on the idea of forming a team. As the idea spread to neighboring communities, official and sanctioned competitions could be conducted.

The America East Skateparks Association exists to promote and coordinate skateboarding activity and to encourage site development. Information and an application form can be obtained by writing: Paul Geyer, President, America East Skateparks Association, 230 E. Grand Ave., Rahway, N.J. 07065. A stamped self addressed envelope should be enclosed.

U.S.A.S.A. IS HAPPENING IN THE EAST

From New Hampshire through Florida, USASA competitions are happening! These contests are making skateboarding history. Designed strictly for the amateur skateboarders, and with over 65 East Coast parks participating, this program, for the first time, organizes and standardizes competitions through which the amateur can develop.

Since May, USASA has sanctioned approx. 40 competitions. These competitions were all run with the same guide lines; for the first time putting in the standardization many of us have desired for so long. USASA has developed its program with special attention on handling the major problems that occur with many competitions. USASA has provided organization that is history making for skateboarding. Our National Competition Network, USASA point system, and Competition Ladder are breakthroughs! The East Coast was our testing ground. Our program is tried and proven and ready for you!

JERE BLACK

17 years old Rides for Jetway Skateboard Parks

Five feet six inches of skateboard muscle dominates the Tennessee skateboard scene at Jetway Skateboard Parks in Memphis, Tennessee. Jere Black (originally from Memphis) has only been skating for a year and a half, but in that short time the trophies and awards he has accumulated in the Mid-South are staggering.

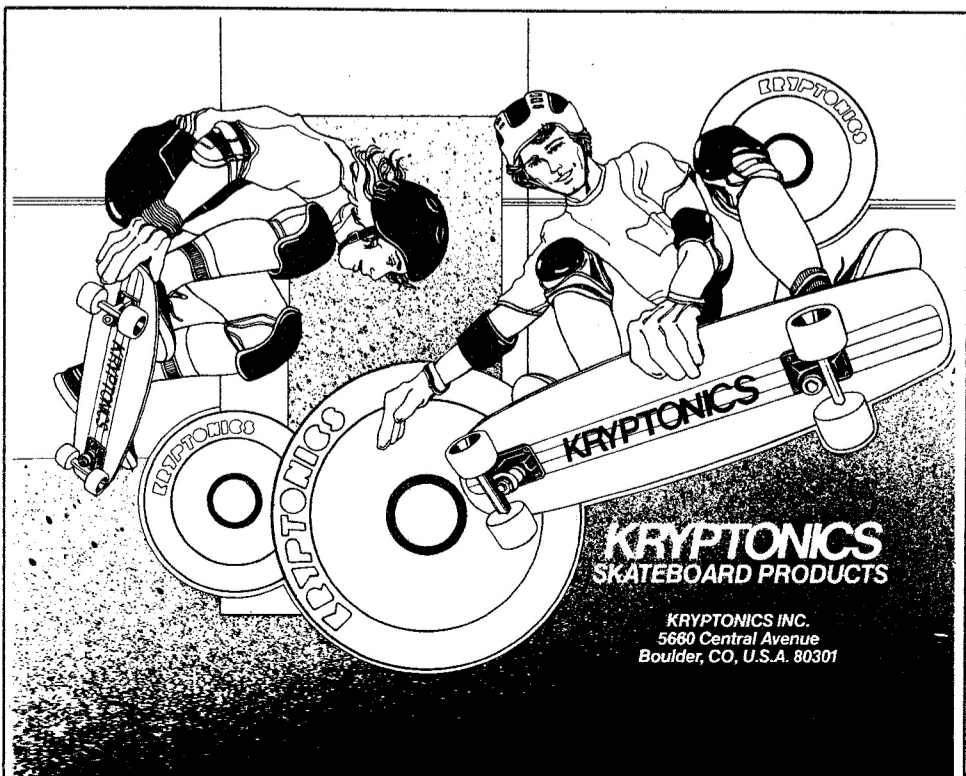

Having won several freestyle events in this area, "Mr. Elevator," readily admits that his main love is for the vertical. "The skateparks in Memphis have only been open five months, but we have been ripping empty pools and drainage ditches from the start." Jere knows no compromise in his aggressive style.

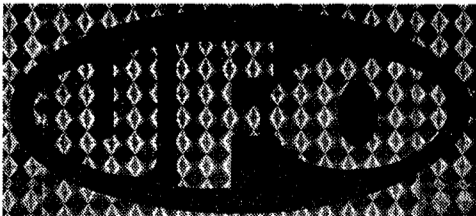

Mr. Elevator Black took top honors at the recent bowl-riding event in the Bartlett-Pro Am tournament held at Jetway Skateboard Park of Bartlett. The Bartlett-Pro Am was held on a team format with individual honors also given. These fine teams attended: Wheelwave Skatepark of Birmingham, Alabama, Pipedream Skatepark of Birmingham, Alabama, High Roller Skatepark of Florence, Alabama, Skatertown Skatepark of Little Rock, Arkansas, Jetway Skateboard Park of Memphis, and Jetway Skateboard Park of Bartlett. Darren Ho, the hot new professional on the circuit was flown in to judge the Bartlett Pro-Am.

Aside from riding a board, Jere is a big bicycle motorcross man. "We started riding bikes as a take off from motorcycles, but when the skateparks opened we quit riding bikes. I couldn't stay up with both. Now, riding a board and girls are my main priorities."

Aside from his obvious athletic ability, Jere is simply a country boy. "Travel is one objective when I graduate from high school. But, I think things are too complex, even in Tennessee. Right now, all I want is to ride my board the best way I know."

month in the Calendar. Sure hope you send me results (and photos too if you can)!
Di

Dear Di,

What a surprise to see that our Pepsi Team Challenge '78 was listed in the NSR's competition calendar! So . . . I am sending along the results of a really fun contest; seems everyone had a great time. The contest itself had four events: bowl riding, freestyle, half pipe, and cross country. Everything ran very smoothly because my wife, Lynda, and myself did a lot of homework and preparation for the event, and it paid off in compliments from the skaters of 20 teams represented.

Really would appreciate a copy of your ad rates and maybe a listing in your Park Directory. Word is we have designed and built the best park in Florida, but I prefer to say "one of the best," though our Rainbow Rippers are definitely the hottest kids on the Gulf Coast. Thanks again for mentioning us.

Kit Traverso,
Rainbow Wave Skatepark, Fla.

Dear Kit,

So nice to hear about a contest that "paid off in compliments from the skaters." We both know how hard that is to get. Glad to hear your contest came off well. I'll be doing another complete Park Directory listing in the December issue and you will certainly be included. Ad rate card is on the way. How about some photos of your Rainbow Rippers? I need black and white prints (no negatives). Hope to see some.

Di

Dear Diana,

I am sending you the Report of the Second Annual Skate-Board Contest which took place in the Town of Luquillo, Puerto Rico. Skating is hot here in Puerto Rico and we have clients even from South America and the rest of the Caribbean.

I am also including some photos of the events. We will keep you posted on all the skating news from over this side of the wall.

Everyone will be anxious to see the report in the National Skateboard Review and I am sure you will get lots of subscriptions to it.

Thank you very much,
Erick Kolthoff,
La Tablita Skate and Surf Shop,
Puerto Rico

Dear Erick,

Thanks so much for letting us in on skateboarding in Puerto Rico. I sure hope you send me more information. How about some black and white photos of some hot riders?

Di

Dear Di,

Here is a copy of the flyers that were sent to the local shops here in Portland (Ore.). The contest name has been changed because of a new sponsor. Hope you find the information useful.

Dear Robbin,

Roller Skate Competition at the Runway

By SPOT

The Runway Pro-Am Skatepark in Carson, Calif. has been the scene of two major competitions this year. The first, a pro skateboarding event, was the Pepsi Challenge Cup banked slalom race held in May. The second, and most historic, was the Pacific Coast Rollerskate Championship and Beauty Pageant. This amateur event which took place on September 2nd marked the first time that a rollerskate competition had ever been held in a skateboard park.

Saturday's activities included freestyle and downhill slalom with the main focus of attention on the freestyle competition. The Runway established an exciting precedent by allowing the riders to use banks in their routines (the use of banks was not mandatory, however). Contestants were judged in the traditional manner of style, variety, difficulty of tricks, continuity, etc. There were no compulsoraries. Routines were kept to 1½ minutes in the prelims and reduced to a brief 1 minute during finals.

The two main competitors at the championship were the Wild Wheels team from Hermosa Beach and the Road Skates International team from Venice. In the men's division it was a 1st-2nd Wild Wheels sweep as OLE OLSEN and JOHN POLING powered themselves through routines which included backward bank riding, aerial pirouettes, power slides, and many other confident tricks. It is interesting to note that the entire Wild Wheels team is highly proficient at "side-surfing," a skating style where one's feet point in directly opposing directions. The third place winner was EDDIE CRUISE of Road Skates. His routine consisted mostly of flatland disco skating.

In the women's division there was some confusion as to who the winner was due to a mistake on one of the judges' score sheets. But after a tight rechecking, DAYNA BENNETT (WW) emerged victorious over ELIZABETH GRAHAM (RSI). Dayna's graceful routine included barrel jumps (contestants were allowed a three prop maximum), cartwheels, bank 360's, and a remarkably smooth sense of style. No less impressive was Elizabeth's stunning ballet/gymnastic style. An independently entered Venician, MAUREEN MARCIELLO, energetically dance-skated her way into third place.

Despite the inaccuracies inherent in a manual stopwatch system (for unknown reasons the Runway personnel were unable to obtain a Chrondek system), the slalom race went off smoothly. It was a nine-cone course and the majority of the riders skated it on one foot. MIKE DOMING was the men's winner with an outrageously fast time of 4.0 secs. His closest competitor BRUCE WAYNE could manage no less than 4.4. EDDIE ARNOLD was third with a 4.5. The fastest woman skater was TICIA STUKLIN who won a well deserved first place for the Road Skates team with a swift 4.6. Second and third went to SUE HALL (5.2) and DAYNA BENNETT (5.6).

There were two team demos put on by the event co-sponsors. Venice Precision Roller Works staged a smooth, proficient display of current disco skating, but the Wild Wheels team stole the show with a totally outrageous explosion of banked freestyle energy that was highly reminiscent of old Keystone Kop movies. One of these crazy eight-wheelers was daring enough to take a 35mm camera into the midst of the melee. He was later reported seen riding the Runway's huge 17-foot deep bowl and maniacally snapping photos of spectators as he carved high frontsides along the back wall.

Earlier in that same bowl was a demo featuring FRED BLOOD, BOBBY MEANS, DUKE RENNIE, and other pro riders. Rennie, another Hermosa skater, put on one of the most spectacular displays of aerial wizardry ever seen. He defied gravity from no less than five feet in space and earned himself the title "King of Air."

The beauty pageant? Well, it was merely a promotional vehicle whose aim was to attract attention toward a new type of sporting event. The winner, rumoured to be a "ringer," was JAN AUJAY. Runners-up were KRISTI CONNELLY, MICHELLE McNEIL, DAYNA BENNETT, and MAUREEN MARCIELLO.

It's to the credit of park manager Sandy Saemann that the day's well-paced activities, though late starting, ended right on the button. And it's to the credit of Hermosa Beach roller skaters that a sport which was once done exclusively on flat wooden floors is now establishing itself as a radical art form on vertical concrete terrain. In a short time there will probably be no such term as "skateboard park." The varieties of both 4 and 8 wheel skating are many and varied and there are quite a few Southern California riders who have already demonstrated that the age of the all around "skatepark" has arrived.

BOBBY VALDEZ
AND POWERFLEX

Boby Valdez, 1st place winner Newark, chose Powerflex because of the results. Like the other Powerflex team riders, Bobby knows that the right equipment makes all the difference. That's why he relies on Powerflex.

Powerflex wheels are famous for their grip and resilience and their new kicktail board offers high precision ridding. Powerflex wheels, boards and accessories are a winning combination.

Competitions are not just riding, HENRY HESTER is conducting the important skaters meeting that proceeds every I.S.A. competition. Definition of the rules as well as clearing up of the last minute questions are carried out. Photo by Jon Malvino.

The Big O Skatepark was the scene of the production of a safety film to be used by the American College of Surgeons for TV this fall. Cal Dunn Productions provided the expertise in filmmaking and I.S.A. provided its talents in coordination of the park, the amateur riders, and star STACY PERALTA. Stacey had a fine time joking about the dialogue — we are still wondering what a "switch back knocker" is! Photo by Cal Dunn Studios.
