JAY ADAMS at Skatopia photographed by PAUL HOFFMAN.

PAUL HOFFMAN- CAMERA MAN

Since the days of his "Who's Hot" in Skateboarder, Paul Hoffman has been full on rippin' in his style and energy. Skating now for about three years he is generally accepted as a suave, sophisticated, and quite cool kid in even the most foul situations. But now Paul is taking on some new aspects to his skating. This sober resident of DogTown has been attracting a fair amount of attention as of late and it seems caused by a most common ailment referred to as the W.B. Syndrome ("W.B." is Warren Bolster). Since acquiring his Olympus "Pro" model camera, he had taken to the banks and walls of most of the local spots tripping out to the clic of his camera.

On top of his already versatile talents Paul is very heavily into surfing. Loving to surf Malibu and Zuma he has been known to go all the way to Huntington for two-foot surf. But whether it is two-foot surf, two-foot of verticle on concrete, or just capturing all of it in his camera, Paul is among the few elite of DogTown who is worth keeping an eye on.

The city of Oceanside, Calif., held its 3rd Annual Novice-Amateur Championships on August 27, 28, 1977. Directed by G&S, with rules by the I.S.A., it reportedly went beautifully. The crowd of about 2,000 packed the outdoor arena as about 200 Novice and Amateur entries competed.

Trouble With Local Laws?

Perhaps you all skate safe, have skill, and treat streets and traffic with respect. But maybe some in your community abuse their right to board and go in traffic or in streets or even on private property so now your town council is considering banning the sport from your community.

The America East Skatepark Association has experienced this problem and offers some general suggestions on how to deal with it. It is important at first to COOPERATE WITH AUTHORITIES OR YOU ARE DOOMED. Avoid confrontations with property owners or police which would create a bad public feeling.

Muster support for skateboarding. AESA did a survey in cooperation with the Rahway Board of Education in Rahway, N.J. which showed that the parents favored a skateboard program by a three to one margin. That is powerful information in favor of your program. The "city" (that could mean town council, board of education, recreation department, civic groups, or perhaps private sponsors) could be shown that the sport is safe even if this requires that your more skilled boarders demonstrate for the officials. If there are suitable areas available, ask the schools or the recreation department to sponsor a program and provide supervision. Argue statistics comparing auto and cycle safety records to skateboarding. Ask your local hospital for statistics on boarding injuries and contrary to the popular myth, I feel you should find very few.

Always treat authority with respect. Officials represent the people and if you can show public support for skateboarding and that you do it well and safely, then the battle is half won. Attend the council or board of education meeting and present your case for a skateboarding program and area during the public portion of the meeting. That is usually when the motion to ban comes up or during "new business" if there is no ban. Have a large turnout of boarders but present your case with intelligence, confidence, and accuracy. Refrain from demonstrations (it can hurt your cause) but suggest that you have a safe, well organized sport and that young people are citizens too, and request the use of public facilities. You may find that there is no generation gap. That people don't oppose skateboarding but they just don't understand it. That adults may be ready and willing to help once they do understand.

Such general tactics were used to the benefit of Ocean City residents and produced the Ocean Bowl Skatepark after the boarders presented their case to city council. Try it, you may get a safe, and even special boarding facility out of it. AESA is most interested in this area and would appreciate letters about how other groups have been successful. You may write; Paul Geyer, President, America East Skateparks Association, 230 E. Grand Ave., Rahway, N.J. 07065.

Dear Di,

Thanks for the fantastic spread on the team. (Sept. issue). it was really exciting for the members to get that kind of coverage. Pop Tops will no longer be able to finance the team, so from here on out we are the Blue Sky Skateboard Team (formerly Pop Top Team). If you know of any sponsors hungry for a team, send them our way.

Sincerely, Guy Watson

Dear Guy,

I printed your letter hoping to reach someone who I may not have contact with. To contact the Blue Skies Team, call Guy Watson 505/277-3004.

Dear Di,

I've been getting scattered copies of your publication for some time now, and I want to let you know how much I enjoy them. The coverage you offer is unique! The results of competitions (including scoring) is always appreciated...hard to find this information in the "slickies."

Please enter my subscription for a year. I'll try to keep you posted on our filming activities as they relate to skateboarding.

Thanks, Richard George, Surf City Productions

Dear Di,

I have enjoyed every issue of your "Review" and would like to continue my subscription, so here is my $3. Such a small price for an informative paper such as yours.

CHRONDEK PROVES ITSELF

Finally, we found it! After two years of bogus timing systems for slalom racing events, Chrondek and skateboarding have come together.

Two years ago, Dave Dominy (Tracker Trucks) suggested the PISA (later the PSA, now the ISA) check out Chrondek Timers for slalom contests. But that went in one ear and out the other. It seems David had heard of Chrondek's nationwide reputation for timing drag races. In truth, Chrondek times every sanctioned and independant drag strip in the country and has created a system, and a company, that is undisputed in reliability. Quite a recommendation.

But, timing systems have been known to fail. The first test for Chrondek was at Kona Skatepark in Florida for 7-Eleven's Muscular Dystrophy contest. Still skeptical, contest directors Hester, Hutson, Williams, and Dootson had to see it all work. And it worked great! Three days on constance practice runs and timed events. The only flaw was when direct sunlight overheated the digital number tubes. Fifteen minutes of cooling, the addition of a shade, and the unit was back on the line for a flawless, trustworthy event.

All of you contest directors out there can imagine the relief at finding a portable, reliable source for timing systems. For slalom racers everywhere... "hooray!"

Feeling secure with Chrondek's track record, Don Branker rented a system for the Freeformer in Long Beach this last September. Chrondek sent their flashiest outfit; Christmas tree start, separately timed lanes, a finish line light that tells the crowd who crossed the finish first. And this weekend, not one time was missed.

A welcome part of the Chrondek bargain is Bob Clifford - sometimes known as Chrondek Bob or Klondike Bill (racers are known to concentrate on the race, not officials). He brought the J-15 system to Florida. Rather than just do this job of delivering, setting up, and maintaining the system, he ran the system for practice and the event for three days and recorded each run!! The guy works hard. In Long Beach he was joined by Dave Buck. These two went to 100% to give the racers a good, accurate race. The compliments that followed proved Clifford, Buck, and Chrondek have a long list of pleased customers.

Kim Cespedes: "It's the best thing they've ever had for slalom racing. It tells the truth."

Randy Smith: "I dig the timing because it helps me win. The visual start helps me give my start."

Chrondek offers the J-15 unit for $100 per day plus expenses. That gives the contest a RELIABLE timing unit and Bob Clifford. Any reputable contest should use Chrondek; the I.S.A. has made it the Official Timing unit for its activities. Try it; they don't miss.

SKATER'S OPINION: pool rules

I would personally like to see a two-minute mandatory routine with a three minute limit. Judge it like freestyle with an emphasis on flow. Wipe-outs should prove disastrous in the judging. Certainly this basis seems to be a good outline for bowls competition.

LET'S HEAR FROM: NEW JERSEY

The America East Skateparks Association has announced that there are several skateparks open for business for New Jersey skaters. The parks are independent operations and are not associated with A.E.S.A. but the information is provided for the benefit of young skaters.

In the northern part of the state is a skatecourse at Vernon Valley, near great gorge with excellent beginner and intermediate sections. For the Central Jersey area there is Casino at Asbury Park which has reopened, the Paved Wave at Oakhurst, and a pretty fair operation located on Long Beach Island.

Finally in the lower regions there are skateparks located on the Atlantic Coast at Ocean City and Sea Isle City and one near Philadelphia at Vineland. These locations throughout New Jersey now put a skatepark within a half hour or forty five minutes from anywhere in Jersey. With proper facilities for Jersey skaters to use for their development the western region of skate supremacy should soon be in jeopardy.

A.E.S.A. is planning to develop a competitive and exhibition team from out of its membership. Anyone interested should send a stamped self addressed envelope to Paul Geyer, President, America East Skateparks Association, 230 E. Grand Ave., Rahway, N.J. 07065.

MICHIGAN

By Chris Yandall

It's no secret that the snow and cold weather will put a freeze on most winter ridden areas this season. Air bubble structures seem to be the sure-fire warmth of the matter for parks. Recreation Specialists, headed by John Gitre, is producing the Sea-Ment wave in Bloomfield Hills and the Cosmic Wave in Kalamazoo - but winter weather has put off construction for now.

Indoor parks are the deciding factor for the survival of the sport in these areas, as well as the strong influence of the market as a whole. It will definitely be interesting to observe the legitimacy of a winter skatepark in lands of snow and ice.

TEXAS

by Ken Emrie

Since I am a resident of San Antonio I have noticed that there is not very much coverage on us. So here it is!

S.A. is super-stoked on the sport. We have many hot skaters that ride the many drainage ditches, that do 45-55 mph on our hills, that seek out and find pools and skate the tiles off!

We have one park built and three others in various stages of development. One of which is 13 acres in size.

Keep the paper going, it's great. (Editor's Note: Ken, please send in name, address, and phone of those parks; and how about more details on those hot ones in Texas? Thanks for the coverage.)

MANHATTAN BEACH, CA.

On August 24th the Parks and Recreation Dept. for the city of Manhattan Beach, Calif. held their first Annual Skateboard Contest. Directed by Skip Harvey (West Coast Skateboards) and Bruce Gera (Concrete Wave), the contest consisted of two divisions: 1. Parks and Recreation Finals for winners of previous P/R contests, 2. Open division for all contestants.

The Functional Design skateboard team did a very professional job of judging and timing the events. Trophies and prizes were donated by West Coast Skateboards and FantaSea Surf Shop. Community response was terrific and plans for next year are already in the works. Many thanks to the city of Manhattan Beach for their complete cooperation.

NEW MEXICO

by Guy Watson

The University of New Mexico Skateboard Club and the Optimist Club of Albuquerque sponsored the first of the seasons bi-monthly slalom races on Saturday, September 11, 1977 at the Soap Box Derby Track in Albuquerque. Competitors came from Santa Fe and several other New Mexico cities. For the first time two local T.V. stations covered the races as a sports event instead of a "special event". Public acceptance of Skateboarding as a sport is growing here in the Southwest.

Slalom-16 and under

- 1. Randy Watson 9.2 seconds
- 2. Beaver Parks 10.1 seconds
- 3. Steve Casias 10.2 seconds
- 4. Danny Newcomm 11.0 seconds

Slalom-17 and older

- 1. Frank Sosaya 9.8 seconds
- 2. Marc Pegram 10.0 seconds
- 3. Mark Pacheco 10.1 seconds

Giant Slalom-Open

- 1. Frank Sosaya 11.4 seconds
- 2. Bruce Davis 11.6 seconds
- 3. Marc Pegram 12.2 seconds

Randy Watson continued his string of first places with the fastest overall time. Beaver Parks, a real hustler, made his best showing to date. Steve Casias maintained his strong cycle. Danny Newcomm, our hot freestyle member, always first in slalom in his old category had a birthday and competed for the first time in the 13-16 category, still a strong contender. He placed fourth. Danny and Randy are getting hotter and more radical with their new Magnum equipment.

The 17 and older category was dominated by Frank Sosaya, a Turner Summer Ski Skater. Only 2/10ths behind were Marc Pegram and Bruce Davis. Most of the racers were still remembering Roadside Attractions events in Colorado and hoping that we can talk Peter and Gary into a racing circuit thru New Mexico during fall.

Several of the locals have discovered a miniature pipe, only 8' in diameter and already have it wired with continuous past vertical "fakies" and carving into cranked kick turns. It's no pipe for tall skaters. A contest is being discussed for the Santa Fe area in the near future.

Those of you who saw the Pop Top team in Colorado will soon hear more about them with their new name: Blue Sky Skateboard Team. The team will soon be skating in their own park. Team captain Bobby Halton, the head official for the Soap Box Racers; "ankles" Pegram, Marsha Forester, Official Recorder; Guy Watson, Official timer; and Joe Muhlberger, Business Manager, are co-owners of the park.

A slight error was included in the fine coverage NSR gave the team in the September issue. Pop Top, the teams major sponsor during the Spring and Summer, was called a "skate rental store". Actually Pop Tops is one of the largest skateboard and custom shirt retail stores in Albuquerque but rentals are not their bag.

The UNM (University of New Mexico) sponsored slalom races on September 24, and October 1, at our Soap Box Derby Track.

September 24, 1977

- A Class (novice)
- 1. John Muhlberger 7.8 seconds
 - 2. Marc Delgado 8.0 seconds

- B Class (intermediate-open)
- 1. Danny Newcomm 8.1 seconds
 - 2. David Rodgers 8.4 seconds
 - 3. Tony Farrar 8.5 seconds

- C Class (pro-open) Tight Slalom
Head to Head eliminations
- 1. Randy Watson
 - 2. Bruce Davis
 - 3. Marc Pegram

- Downhill Giant Slalom
- 1. Bobby Halton 14.5 seconds
 - 2. Marc Pegram 14.6 seconds
 - 3. Randy Watson 16.5 seconds

October 1, 1977
Downhill Giant Slalom-open

- 1. Bobby Halton 15.0 seconds
- 2. Bruce Davis 16.0 seconds
- 3. Harrachi 16.1 seconds

Tight Slalom-open
Head to Head eliminations (times for winners only)

- 1. Randy Watson 9.5 seconds
- 2. Bruce Davis 9.8 seconds
- 3. Danny Newcomm 11.0 seconds

Forgetting NSR's box number on our last letter doesn't help meet printing deadlines, but the Fall activities are picking up momentum. One Junior high school and a private college have asked club president Halton to help them develop regular skateboard activities for their recreation program. October 17, will see the Blue Sky team initiate a training program with the local YMCA and a UNM group has the team running a fund raising race Saturday October 8. Randy Watson and Danny Newcomm are trying out the constantly improving Magnum equipment. The lighter boards, trucks and improved tires are getting a tough trial in our local pipes and culverts.

Roadside Attractions (the Colorado race 'aces') are planning another series of competitions that will include Albuquerque as one of the stops on the tour.

The Blue Sky Skateboard Park plans a Winter opening with the hottest surfaces, pools, runs and tubes in the Southwest. More on our grand opening in future issues.

Florida

After a call to Sally Ann Miller, of the I.S.A., she indicated that FSA could be the Florida affiliate of the I.S.A. I need to communicate further with her to work out a title change for FSA and some other details; but, progress is being made!!

We took two of the Orange Cycle Works Team members to a contest in Ashbury Park, NJ, for October 8. It was a pro contest with $1,000 for first place in each event. Most of the top East Coast skaters were there. More coverage later.

Let's keep in touch, and join hands in promoting skateboarding as a safe sport and for its recognition in the sports world.

Calif. STATE Championships

In a two part contest, Jim O'Mahoney, of the USSA, held the 2nd Annual California State Championships. It was held October 8, 9 and 15, 16 at the newly finished Runway State Park in Carson. Teams such as California Pro, Santa Cruz (Amateur team), and Fat City Racing came from as far away as Sacramento and Santa Cruz.

Unfinished facilities left conveniences lacking the first weekend but by Part II, the Runway had things rolling pretty well. The freestyle was held in a good sized flatland freestyle area edged with banks a good 15 feet high. The slalom and banked slalom was held in the portion of the park that was originally part of the LA County drainage system. It is a nice, deep ditch with good transitions and good surfacing.

The following first place holders all may carry the title of State Champion '77 for their age division.

STREET SKATER SURVEY

On July 19th the NSR sent out six interviewers to six separate regions of Los Angeles. Their instructions were to drive the neighborhood streets of their assigned area looking for skateboarders riding or carrying their board. They identified themselves as an interviewer for the NSR and asked if they would take a few minutes to answer some questions about skateboard parks. For their time and trouble they would be given a copy of the paper. The purpose of the survey was to discover a) had they heard of skateparks, b) had they ever been to a park, and c) what had they heard and/or how did they feel about their experience at the park(s). The results were most interesting. Following is the compiled responses to our questions.

- 1 Average age: 16 years, range 4 to 29 years
- 2 Sex: 87 per cent male, 13 per cent female
- 3 Self-defined expertise: novice 16 per cent, beginning intermediate 35 per cent, advanced intermediate 39 per cent, expert 10 per cent.

WHAT MEANS "PULTRUDED"?

Skateboard companies like Ampul and Bahne make pultruded decks. Following is a paragraph written by Ampul (American Pultruded Products Corp.) describing what "pultruded" means . . .

The pultrusion operation is somewhat similar to extrusion in that plastic material is passed through a shaping die continuously to produce a product with the particular shape required.

The basic difference is that, in extrusion, the plastic material is pushed through the die opening like tooth past from a tube. In the pultrusion process the continuous fibers are pulled through a liquid resin tank, then through the shaping die, and then is pulled by a caterpillar type puller located far enough away to allow for cooling of the product.

In the case of skateboards, a moving cut-off saw is put in the line to cut desired lengths automatically. Additional cutting, shaping, grinding, and drilling are needed to finish the pultruded skateboard deck.

There are several advantages to making boards by the pultruded method:

1. The strong glass fibers are pulled in a pre-tensioned condition in a parallel direction to give tremendous strength lengthwise.
2. A continuous glass strand mat gives cross-fiber strength and prevents splitting along the grain.
3. Color pigment added to the resin vat gives an even coloring throughout the board.
4. The high tensile strength, flexing strength, and stiffness make the pultruded board stronger than wood, molded plastic, press-molded fiberglass, or hand made fiberglass.

Imitation Trackers

It's true. Due to the popularity and widespread demand for Tracker Trucks, some less - than - ethical manufacturers are producing IMITATION Tracker Trucks. A number of these IMITATIONS may even have our name of the base plate. Here at Tracker, we are worried that you will be fooled. We do not want you to buy these PHONY trucks expecting our strength and quality—only to discover that you are not riding Tracker Trucks and are not covered by the Tracker guarantee.

There have been COUNTERFEITERS for a long time, and it has become necessary to learn the distinguishing factors between the real and the copy. Think of how carefully you would inspect a hundred dollar bill, or a diamond if it came from a questionable source. That is what we are asking you to do with Tracker Trucks: if you question the source, INSPECT CLOSELY. Of course, you should always look for a reputable authorized Tracker Trucks dealer and keep relying on established distributors.

GUARANTEED MADE IN U.S.A. printed on bottom of base plate (sometimes appears in a box)

all Tracker Trucks come with grey Space Pads (9/16" for Fultrack and Midtrack; 5/16" for Haftrack)

SKATEPARKS SAFEST SPOT FOR SKATEBOARDING, STUDY SHOWS

by
Dr. Marshall A. Rockwell
Chairman of the Board, SPARKS Skateparks, Inc.

Skateboard parks are without a doubt the safest environment for skateboarding.

With proper design of the park, good supervision, capable instruction and proven safety gear, skateboarding can be one of the safest of the popular sports. And development of special safety gear, especially reinforced gloves with forearm supports, potentially will cut out as much as half the most frequent serious injuries suffered by skateboarders: fractured wrists and forearms.

We surveyed more than 32,000 cases in the Emergency Department of Santa Monica Hospital over a year to find out what kinds of injuries occur in skateboarding, and why. The results show that skateboarding has an injury rate about equal to skiing, but that most injuries are not as serious as caused by ski mishaps.

The survey also showed that streets and swimming pools are among the more hazardous places to practice the sport. The reason, of course, is obvious — there's little control of the environment (especially in the streets), and the surfaces are neither designed for skateboarding nor made to be less harmful when a skater falls.

Most injuries are what skaters call "burgers", or abrasions caused when rough asphalt meets soft skin. These are usually on the palm, forearm, elbow, knee, leg and foot.

The broken arms result from a skater falling sharply, when trying to break the fall by extending the hand. Bones in the forearm are not necessarily strong enough to take the shock, and give way. Learning how to fall relaxed, a technique borrowed from skiing, can help prevent most such injuries.

Making skateparks safer in themselves, the study shows, first of all means that normal safety gear should be mandatory. Using helmets, elbow and knee pads, and requiring skaters to wear shoes goes a long way toward reducing the injury rate.

In addition, it is good for a skatepark to set aside fairly gentle slopes for novice skateboarders, or people without prior experience in skating a park surface, to practice. Beginners are best served by learning on a wide, gentle slope that has no more than two or three degrees of incline.

Persons without much experience in skating in a park are vulnerable to accidents because park areas are so different from streets, pools, pipes or ditches. Park surfaces have relatively quick changes in slope and angle, so that a skater needs to become accustomed to changing position, shifting weight and moving the center of balance, to be proficient in a park.

Trying to take on some of these surfaces too soon, too aggressively, leads to most of the skatepark injuries we surveyed.

Instruction of skateboarders is an area in which safety can be taught as a part of the sport. Beginners should be using equipment suited to their skill and size. For example, a taller person should use a board with wider axles and less flex. Novices should tighten their trucks as much as possible.

Skateboarders who want to go to parks which are generally safe in design should look for a number of signs. First of all, the design of skateboarding areas — bowls and other runs which have a sharp vertical edge should rise fairly high. If the vertical slope is cut off too low, it is easy to go over the edge and take a nasty fall. And surfaces should be pretty smooth; bumpy or roughly-finished surfaces can make a board wobble or go over at a high speed.

Another sign is how the park is run. Look to see if there is good supervision of the conduct of skateboarders, and safety equipment available. Too many people on the surface at one time is also hazardous.

Skateboarding is a sport, and safer than many others. A good, well-run skatepark, as our study shows, is the safest place to enjoy the sport.
